

Woodstock School Anti-Bullying Ambassadors Kindness Afternoon

On February 27th 2020 all students at Woodstock School took part in kindness workshops, which were an idea that our school Anti-Bullying Ambassadors planned and put in place. The games during this afternoon were a chance to develop kindness when playing games, being a good team player and overcoming challenges.

Our school Anti-Bullying Ambassadors work tirelessly to ensure that all young people at Woodstock experience kindness and fairness whilst at school.

Anti-Bullying Ambassadors Kindness Workshops

Woodstock School Anti-Bullying Ambassadors would like to invite each class to a 20 minute workshop this Thursday afternoon, the aim of this session is to develop kindness when playing games.

When: 27/2/2020 13:00-15:00

Where: School hall

Who: Woodstock School Anti-Bullying Team

Staff and students took part in both of the activities!

Once the Ambassadors had welcomed each class and explained why we were having this fun afternoon our first activity involved the parachute, we had to run through and shake hands with another person!

Our second activity was to run under the parachute and collect treasure, in the box were random acts of kindness for us to take away with us as a challenge and some questions for us to explore how we could help others.

During our next activity we played a tug of war, to do this we had to overcome disappointment, encourage each other and say well done and shake hands at the end of the game.
